Speaking of Rabbits.

John W. Jelf, who lives near Mt. Edwin, this county, came to the front with a cat and rabbit story that discounts the "hen and partridge" narrative which recently appeared in the Sun. Jelf has a cat that some time ago gave birth to a litter of kittens that were taken from her and disposed of. The feline mother's grief was inconsolable until one day she came in from the field bringing three young gray rabbits that she nursed with great satisfaction. The rabbits seemed well pleased with their foster-mother. Two of the bonnies died a few ago, but the remaining one is as lively as a cricket and growing rapidly.—Versailles Sun.

That Kansas land is not admired by some people very greatly is evidenced in the following letter which is taken from a St. Louis paper:

"Johnson City, Tenn., Sept. 20, 1897.—Register United States Land Office, W. Keeney, Kan.—My Dear Sir: Answering your favor of the 3rd inst., referring to my entry No. 19,005, under the homestead law, will say that I have no cause to show within the prescribed thirty days (nor thirty weeks, nor months even) why my claims should not be forfeited to said piece of land in that arid region, where rains are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth and as far between as angels' visits; water is more precious than diamonds; where the lean and hungry coyote barks to the majestic silence of the lonely and unpeopled prairies, where the festive jack rabbit wanders unmolested, lordly 'monarch' of all he surveys, and mourns for his companions the Indian, buffalo and settlers, who are not.

I voluntarily surrender all my right, title and interest in said land forever and irrevocably to eminent domain of our own 'Uncle Sam.' Blest be his magnanimous great heart for that beneficent homestead law, that plants the settler on his lonely claim forty miles from nowhere and out of God's knowledge, of delve a fortune from the bosom of mother earth, to the tune of blizzards, cyclones, grass hoppers and chinch bugs, and after a few short and fitful years, full of sorrow and hard work, to seek his last and only rest in the bosom of mother earth his only companion in his isolation. I congratulate his excellency the President on his magnanimous addition to the public domain."

Poor as a Church Mouse.

It doubtless never occurred to the burglar who attempted to break into the residence of the local editor on Monday night that the average newspaper man is as poor as the proverbial church mouse, and therefore has precious little worth stealing. However, we gave him a couple of pistol shots just as a reminder that we are always ready for visitors, and we promise the same cordial welcome to any others who desire to repeat the experiment.—Richmond Register.

Navigation to Ford.

An order has been issued by parties in charge of the Kentucky river navigation ordering work to be continued night and day until lock No. 7, now under construction at High Bridge, is completed, says the Nicholas Journal. It is expected that this work will be completed by Oct. 1st, and navigation above the lock will be opened up for the first time.

Women Who Should not Marry.

The woman who proudly declares that she can not even hem a pocket handkerchief, never made up a bed in her life, adds with a simper that she has "been in society ever since she was fifteen."

She who would rather nurse a pug dog than a baby.

The woman who thinks she can get $5,000 worth of style out of a $1,000 salary.

The woman who wants to re-furnish her house every spring.

The woman who buys for the mere pleasure of buying.

The woman who does not know how many cents, halves, quarters, dimes and nickels there are in a dollar.

The woman who think that men are angels and demigods.

The woman who would rather die than wear a bonnet two seasons old.

The woman who thinks that the cook and the nurse can keep house.

The woman who thinks it is cheaper to buy bread than make it.

The woman who buys bric-a-brac for the parlor and borrows kitchen utensils from her neighbors.

The woman who wants things just because "other women" have them.

The woman who thinks she is an ornament to her sex if she wins a progressive checker prize.—Philadelphia Times.

If any of our subscribers who have wells that are failing in water, will put a pint of salt in their wells they will find an increase of water within twenty-four hours. We do not know the philosophy of the matter, but several instances here in town where the experiment has been tried, demonstrates beyond a doubt the efficacy of the experiment. {Dr. Nickell, Emery James, the editor of this paper, and others have used salt for this purpose, and can testify as to the results. The two first-named found an increase of one foot of water in their wells within twenty-four hours, and Mr. James says he never knew the remedy to fail to produce good results.—Hazel Green-Herald.

Mr. O. W. Rose, of Loerst Branch, Estill county, cooks in Estill and eats in Madison, says the Richmond Clinax. He says the county line runs directly through his kitchen. He resides a mile and a quarter from the intersection of three counties, Jackson, Estill and Madison.

The fiscal court of Madison county, has fixed the salaries of the county officials for the coming four years as follows: County judge, $1,000; county attorney, $500; superintendent, $845; jail physician, $100; poorhouse keeper, $250; poorhouse physician, $125; poorhouse matron, $75.

The Black Diamond railroad which is to pass through and the towns in the State has been located some more. The latest plan is to come by way Jellico, Irvine, Mt. Sterling, etc. Why not take the place of the late lamented L. C. and V., and come by the way of Winchester?—Winchester Democrat.

R. N. L. & B. Sold.

The Richmond, Nicholasville, Irvine & Beattyville railroad was sold at Versailles Monday by Special Commissioner Durrelle to Messrs. Shanahan, Hanger and Walker, acting for the bond holders, for $301,000. The only contesting bidder was Adolph Segal, of Philadelphia, representing an eastern syndicate.

Rutherford B. Todd, son of Frank Todd, Esq., stabbed Daniel Little, a tenant on Todd's farm nine times last Saturday two miles east of Richmond. Little died on Monday. Todd was arrested and charged with murder. His examining trial was set for Wednesday. The particulars in the case have not been reliably ascertained by us. Todd is the younger brother of Bill Todd who is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for murdering his brother. Young Todd has always borne the reputation of being a sober quiet and peaceable boy.

The meeting at the Baptist church closed Sunday night. There were no additions to the church, but the church was greatly revived. Brother Coe did some excellent preaching and made many friends while with us.

It is not often even in this land of wonderful happenings that one sees a youngster three weeks old taking his first railroad journey alone, but such a young traveler turned up in Kansas City recently, en route from Clear Lake, Iowa, to Siloam Springs, Ark. It was a case of desertion by heartless parents. A physician who ought to have known better happened to know a woman in Arkansas who would be a mother to the boy, and immediately picked him off in a basket with a bottle by his side. A note accompanied the child asking kind-hearted women to care for it on the way.

C. P. McIntosh, of Sams, was in town yesterday.

The Fiscal Court, which met this week, allowed the usual amount of pauper, idiot, road, and ordinary claims. In addition they gave to Grant E. Lilly, ex-County Attorney a fee of $500 for services in the Rail Road case; they also promised him an additional fee of $500 contingent upon success.

Ex-Congressman McCree has announced his candidacy to succeed Lindsay in the Senate.

It seems that Estill county democrats have singled out our old friend, Stephen Daniel, republican candidate for sheriff, and are making a warm fight against him. We see no reason why Mr. Daniels should not march to a nice victory along with the remainder of the ticket and from all reports he will. Uncle Simp Richardson, his democratic opponent, might as well prepare to pay his next year's taxes to Steve, for he will be Estill's next sheriff.—Richmond Pantagraph.

There is no need of the Republicans worrying over the acknowledged defeat of Mr. Daniels, and trying to encourage his supporters in the above article. His chances for success are fully as many as any other candidate on the Republican ticket. None of the Republican with opposition, will be elected to office in Estill county this year. Mark that down now, Bro. Adams.

Hon. W. J. Bryan has made several speeches in the western part of the State where he met large and enthusiastic crowds. No leader, whether he be a Republican or Gold Bug, cares to meet him.

Bryan was able to draw as many people at the Exposition to hear his speech, says the Dispatch, as could get in hearing distance, and he had to compete with Buffalo Bill's show, all the attractions of the Centennial, and a sham battle, but he out-drew all of them.

Horse shoeing a Speciality

Winchester Democrat: An Irishman took a contract to dig a well. When he had dug about twenty-five feet down he came one morning and found it had fallen in—and it was filled nearly to the top. Pat looked cautiously around and saw that no person was near, then took off his hat and coat and hung them on the windlass, crawled into some bushes and waited events. In a short time the neighbors discovered that the well had fallen in, and seeing Pat's hat and coat on the windlass they supposed he was at the bottom of the excavation. Only a few hours a brisk digger cleared the loose dirt from the well. Just as the excavators had reached the bottom and were wondering where the body was Pat came out of the bushes and good-naturedly thanked the diggers for relieving him of a sorry job. Some of the tired diggers were disgusted, but the joke was too good to allow of anything more than a laugh which followed promptly.

The little town of Adairville has a record. In the past thirty-four years there have been sixty-four men killed there; four of them were town marshals. There have been eight people killed there in fourteen months. And still Adairville has the cleverest of people and is in one of the best sections of Kentucky.—Election Progress.
